CEMENT COMPANY

COMPLETES PIPE LINE

The cement company has completed its pipe line to the mouth of Sandy, six miles from town and yesterday began pumping water to the plant. Everything is now ready to move at 10 a. m. and with water assured, there will be no more shutting down on this account. It will be remembered that the line was first laid to the station well at the quarry, but it did not yield a quantity sufficient to supply the needs of the plant and it had to be taken up and laid to Sandy.

DEATH DEALING CY.

CLONE AT SEDALIA

Sedalia, Mo., April 30.—A tornado struck Sedalia at 5 o'clock this morning and damaged property in a path two blocks wide and a mile and a half long. Mrs. Isaac Reed and Geo. Alspaugh were out by 10 a. m. in both instances limbs being blown through their windows. A number of houses were torn from their foundations and large trees were blown up or snapped in half. The damage to property was considerable. The tornado was off and on for a mile and a half.

Key to the storm was a small son of William Reed, 10 years old, who was blown a mile by the wind and was blown down against the ground with such force that nearly every bone in his body was broken and his brains were dashed out. His mother was struck by flying timbers and will die. His father's home, a mansion of ante-bellum days, was blown to atoms.

Fain and his three children were returning from a field when the storm broke. He urged them to run to a cave in the yard of their home. Two of the children reached this cave and were saved. The little boy could not run fast enough and was carried off before the eyes of the horror-stricken family.

The path of the storm was almost a mile wide and everything was swept away by the tornado where it struck the earth.

Get Judgment for Goebel Reward.

Frankfort, Ky., March 1.—Detectives who brought suit against the Goebel reward fund commission for the capture and conviction of Harry E. Yonkey and Jim Howard, charged with taking part in the assassination of Gov. Goebel in January, 1909, were awarded $5,500 in the state circuit court here this afternoon. The detectives are: T. R. Griffin of Somerset, Ky., and William Harding and "Doc" Strong of Louisville. Their petition requested an award of $10,000.

Saturday night, Justice Brown performed the marriage ceremony for C. W. Copeland and Mrs. Minnie Clark of Sulphur.

DYNAMITE SUSPECTS

NOT YET ARRAIGNED

Los Angeles, Cal., April 30.—No word has been received here direct from Clarence Darrow, the Chicago attorney, that he would undertake the defense of John and James McNamara, and those interested in the case of the accused dynamite conspirators said today they were therefore at sea regarding possible acquiescence in an early arraignment of the prisoners.

Labor leaders here do not want the men arraigned until Darrow is on the ground and the best information they had today was that Darrow, instead of coming here personally, had sent a confidential representative to look over the situation before he would agree to accept the position of chief counsel.

representative to look over the situation before he would agree to accept the position of chief counsel.

In consequence, the arraignment, scheduled to occur not later than Wednesday, may be deferred and the district attorney is expected to consent to the delay as it is understood that he is not averse to having further time to adjust various technical points on the state's side to correct the indictments against the accused men, which were drawn hastily after Burns had taken James McNamara and McManis into custody at Detroit.

It was also reported in official quarters today that the arraignment might await the arrival of attorneys representing the National Erector's Association, who, it is said, will join District Attorney Fredericks and his assistant, W. J. Ford, in the prosecution of the McNamaras.

McManis Stands Alone
By his alleged confession to the prosecutor three days ago and his subsequent refusal to see attorneys for the defense, McManis is left out of all consideration by the friends of the McNamara brothers.

Orel Harper, who was with the News for four years, and who afterward edited the Allen Hustler for several months, arrived yesterday afternoon and will be here a day or two. Since leaving Pontotoc county he has been employed at Guthrie and Oklahoma City in some of the best plants of the state.

THE P. O. DEPARTMENT

ON SUNDAY CLOSING

Post Office Department,
First Assistant
Postmaster-General.
Washington, April 25, 1911.
Hon. U. G. Winn, Postmaster, Ada, Oklahoma.

My Dear Sir:
The Postmaster-General is, as you are aware, deeply interested in the welfare of postal employees, believing liberality with respect to compensation and other conditions of employment to be the best policy. He has recommended repeatedly that a law be enacted authorizing him to extend the annual leave of absence with pay for postoffice clerks from fifteen to thirty days. Although provision to this end was made in the appropriation act for the next fiscal year as passed by the senate, this section of the bill failed in conference. Section 3 of this act, however, provides for allowing clerks compensatory time off for Sunday work, as follows:

"That hereafter for services required on Sundays of supervisory officers, clerks in first and second-class postoffices, * * * compensatory off during the working days in amount equal to that of the Sunday employment may be allowed, under such regulations as the Postmaster-General may prescribe; but this provision shall not apply to auxiliary or substitute employees."

The Postmaster-General is very anxious to give the employees the benefit of this legislation immediately, believing they are entitled to one day's rest in seven or its equivalent, and that their efficiency will be increased thereby. At many offices, however, report every Sunday to work incoming and outgoing mails and to serve at the general delivery window; and as in some of these offices the hours during the week are long, it becomes desirable, in order that the provisions of the law quoted may be carried out, to reduce the hours of Sunday service to the minimum.

There is a very strong sentiment throughout the country in favor of closing postoffices on Sunday, as shown by petitions received from religious organizations and commercial bodies, by numerous letters and petitions from the general public and by the comments of the press. In a considerable number of the larger offices the Department has authorized the discontinuance or curtailment of Sunday services where the sentiment was favorable and seemed to justify such action. It is believed, therefore, that at the smaller offices where unnecessary work is done similar reforms can be effected without inconvenience to the public and with great benefit to the officers and employees of the postoffices.

It is appreciated that some postoffices are already closed on Sundays and that no employees are required to report. Of course it is not the purpose to in any manner disturb such conditions, if on the other hand the conditions are such that a certain amount of Sunday work cannot be avoided the following suggestions should be adopted as near as practicable.

The general delivery window should be kept open only a sufficient length of time to accommodate properly the traveling public and those patrons of the office who call for urgent personal mail. Mails should also be received and dispatched as usual and distributed to boxes and the general delivery—enough clerks being detailed for duty on Sunday to carry the plan into effect. Work that is not absolutely essential should be deferred till Monday. The clerks employed on Sunday should be given compensatory time off during the week, provision for which can in most instances easily be made by such a rearrangement of schedules as will reduce the number of clerks on duty during the eight hours of the day.

The Department requests your earnest co-operation to bring about this modification of Sunday service and suggests that if you have any doubt as to the attitude of the public on the subject you take the matter up with the press of your city, with the ministers and religious associations, and with the commercial bodies; and that you report to this department the result and whether the plan outlined in this letter cannot be put into effect immediately. A report is de-

Ruling on Tax Collections.

Oklahoma City, Ok., April 28.—Because a Tax Assessor fails to assess all property at its full, fair, cash value, those concerns that are so assessed are not excused from paying thereon, was the holding of District Judge Taylor in an injunction case yesterday. A number of local firms sought to enjoin the Collector upon the ground stated, alleging that property other than theirs had been assessed at only 60c on the dollar. The court held that because the Assessor failed to obey the law as to other property owners did not affect the standing of such as were assessed at full value. A corporation having a grievance, the court pointed out, has its remedy in appeal from the county board of equalization.

INDIANS MUST SIGN

CHECKS WITH THUMB

Cochise, Okla., The commissioner of Indian affairs, through an approval of Secretary Fisher of the interior department, has directed officials throughout Oklahoma that hereafter every Indian who cannot write his name will be required to sign all checks and other warrants covering Indian money by making an imprint of the ball of his right thumb, such imprint to be witnessed by an employee of the Indian agent's office or by one of the leading men of the tribe who can write. If an Indian is not living with his tribe his thumb mark signature must be witnessed by the postmaster of the place where he resides.

As a result of an investigation of the robbery of the safe in the Katy depot at Oklahoma City suspicion pointed to the agent and he was required to make good the loss of $400. He protested his innocence but stated that rather than subject his family to undue humiliation he would settle and be through with it.

Very Valuable Pipe.

One pipe that will not figure in any his throne recently. It descended to its present owner from his father, who it the pipe was guarded by one of the court officials, whose task it was to watch it night and day, since a

BEING BUSINESSLIKE

When the delivery man had pocketed his bulging book and gone pounding on his way, the oldest daughter of the house shrugged her pretty shoulders and returned to her guest in the parlor.

"Business is a great fraud," she declared.

"I've always said so," responded her friend with some emphasis.

"I've just signed an expressman's book to show that I've received something," the daughter of the house explained. "Now, why sign? I don't know what's in that box. It's large and heavy, but it may be empty. And yet a delivery man would drop dead if you stopped to look inside before you signed. No one ever does."

"Certainly not," said her friend, warmly. "That would be quite unprofessional. What that box contains in a small matter, after all. The point is, did it come? When you are as old as I am, my dear, you will begin to understand how many yards of red tape men need to be truly businesslike. They put up an appearance of great caution—"

"And do the saddest things ever heard of!"

"Exactly. Leases that everybody breaks—"

"Checks that any one can cash—"

"Contracts that no one pays any attention to—"

"Deposit slips that you always lose—"

"Passes for the bearer only—but any one may be the bearer—and cards not transferable—"

"Adele, I'm so glad to hear you speak so," cried the hostess. "I've always believed that business was so much pretense."

"A most cursory knowledge of business methods—improperly so called—shows how shallow they are."

"I'm so glad you feel as I do, Adele.
It's such a comfort to hear you express those convictions. Father has always scolded us girls for not being businesslike, and I've always tried to conceal my ignorance more or less. It seemed such a matter for scorn."

"Scorn? My dear," said her friend in a tone of finality, "business is incompatible with high thinking."

"Adele," said the girl suddenly, "how do you send money..."

"Send it up," snapped her friend.

"How else?"

"You darling! Of course how else!
But as long as I can remember, whenever we sealed up money in an envelope and father found it out he would throw up his hands and implore the fates to help us. Then he has gone about for days after, uttering instructions about 'money orders' and registered letters! But neither Ethel nor I had ever paid any attention to him until last summer when I went to the country. It was very funny."

"I had been away only a short time when Ethel wrote in a rather superior tone that she had sent me a registered letter for $10. Just as if she had been in the habit of doing those things every day of her life! The money didn't surprise me, you know, because she owed it to me. But 'registered letter' sounded entirely too ambitious for our little Ethel."

"Well, I went down to the postoffice every day for a week, insisting that there was a registered letter for me.
The postoffice there was a poor excuse of a place, and it had a lot of suspicious looking clerks. So when my letter was overdue I just drew myself up and insisted that the letter was there, and so was the money. But they did not seem greatly excited."

"The people of the town began to interest themselves in my financial condition. It was rumored that I was expecting a lot of money that hadn't come, so I had to spend money lavishly to show that I didn't really need it.
Then I wrote Ethel that something was wrong. And I didn't hint that it served her right."

"Her next letter was suitably humble. She couldn't understand what was the matter, but she inclosed a little paper, which, she said, the man at the postoffice had given her as a receipt for her money. She said she had given my name and address quite plainly and she suggested that if I showed the receipt they might be able to trace the letter. So down I went to the postoffice with the little paper."

"Here's the receipt," I said. Then, Adele, you never heard such a noise as those crazy men made. You'd have thought they had been saving up that guffaw for the best part of their lives.

"As soon as they could frame words they asked me in a sort of chorus what I wanted. Naturally, I told them, when my sister had given my address and paid her money she expected that it would be sent to me. I can't tell you all they said. They showed me all the reading matter on that paper, which was enough to drive any one insane."

"But it seems, Adele, that after giving your money to the clerk at the postoffice you have to send on the little receipts yourself and put the person that gets it to the trouble of having it made back into money again.
Could anything be more roundabout?"

"Then you haven't seen the new forms for money orders?"

"Don't tell me—"

"I won't. Only they've added some other kind of ticket—which makes three."

"Goodness, Adele, what's the point?
But tell me—if all that performance is only a money order, what in the world is a registered letter?"

GIVE THE DISTINCTIVE TOUCH

Initials on Articles of Personal Use Add Greatly to Pleasure of Possessor.

Nothing gives so distinctive a touch as initials. Whether in silver, stationery, handkerchiefs or household linen, a monogram or initials enhances the value of a gift.

There is much difference in engraving, so it pays to get your silver or jewelry where you know artistic marking is done.

Letter and note paper for formal correspondence is invariably marked.
Most women have several dies, one with their addresses for business and ordinary correspondence, the other with monogram or crest, for personal notes.

Just now the letters woven into circles, diamonds or oblongs and placed at the upper left hand corner of note paper or card are extremely popular.
Conservative women remain true to the three block initials, rather small, placed in center of paper or at left hand corner.

The hostess who entertains frequently has her monogram or crest stamped on gilt or silver-edged place cards, which are kept always on hand for emergencies. The die from one's monogram paper can be used, the stamping being done in gold or silver unless to match a special decoration.

A 25-cent handkerchief will take quite a new air if the initials of the owner are embroidered on it. The lettering for ordinary ones is in small, plain letters across one corner; for more elaborate ones a monogram or initials inside a medallion is preferred.

Bureau covers, table scarfs, linen pillow slips, and centerpiece which can be picked up cheaply at white sales will look vastly better if marked with initials.

Bolster rolls of plain linen are better looking if they have three five-inch initials worked in the middle. They should be heavily padded to stand in bold relief.

The girl who has little time for fancy work should learn only to embroider initials. It does not take long to mark one's belongings, and it increases their beauty. Especially for gifts is lettering useful. It makes them attractive and personal.

See that the padding is regular and well rounded and that the covering for the satin stitch is taken firmly with stitches close together, but not overlapping, and with edges even.

BLUSH ALWAYS A BLEMISH

Affliction Is Unnatural and May Be Done Away With If Proper Care Is Exercised.

A flush is a very different thing from a mere blush. The latter is usually an improvement, and disappears as gently and as unobtrusively as it comes. But the flush may dye every feature crimson—even a purplish crimson at times—or it may settle in patches and blotches, causing the unfortunate sufferer untold distress.

There are several causes for this unnatural blushing. Excessive emotion of some kind, too thin a skin, indigestion and tight lacing are the chief ones. In the first case, the evil is to be prevented only by a systematic attempt to control the mind. In the second, care is needed as to the daily treatment of the face. No strongly perfumed soaps must be used and no hard water.

Apply cucumber extract frequently, and make this at home by pounding up a cucumber in a mortar and squeezing the pulp through coarse muslin. Also use a good pure cold cream at nights. As regards the indigestion, that is to be cured very soon under proper treatment and care as to diet; and about the tight lacing —well, any girl who is foolish enough to torture herself in such a manner deserves the trouble that is bound to result.

OF NET, LACE AND SATIN

For the Little One.

When a child has outgrown his high chair, and the ordinary dining room chair is still too low, the mother often resorts to placing books or a small box on the seat of the chair.

If, however, she will go to the house furnishing department, of a shop and ask for small rubber bumpers she can screw these to the legs of the chair and make it a convenient height
for the little one.

Dick Harris came in from Sapulpa yesterday afternoon. He has made headquarters at that place for some months past.

Rev. James Rayburn of Leonard, Texas, is in town today consulting with the elders and members of the Presbyterian church.

J. W. Swenti, who is suffering from an attack of fever, is reported to be greatly improved.

G. M. Ramsey and family will in a day or two go on an auto trip to Hobart. This will be about the longest auto trip yet undertaken by an Ada machine owner.

W. H. Moss has purchased the lots on East 5th street next to J. W. Davis from Dr. Martin and will in a short time build on them. The lots cost for $500.

The frame work of W. H. Ebey's new residence at the corner of Townsend and 17th is about finished and it will not be long until one of the neatest cottages on that street will stand on the corner.

Harry Kaiser went fishing not long ago and reports that no fish are to be found in the creeks now. The reporter will not go fishing for awhile, for if Harry can't catch fish there is no use in any one else trying.

F. L. Harrigan, who has been in the moving picture show business for the past two years, has disposed of his interests in that line. He expects to engage in some other business in the near future, however.

B. H. Frick, the ice man, returned this afternoon from a combined business and pleasure trip (especially the latter) from Chickasha and other points in western Oklahoma, and is now in a position to give facts and figures regarding the millinery business.

H. W. Goodwin, engineer of the Byrd's Mill extension, arrived this morning and is looking after business connected with the work. Mr. Goodwin is anxious to see the work pushed as rapidly as possible, and in the present condition of the town, he has the solid backing of the citizens. The sooner the dirt begins to fly the happier they will be and the smaller the prospect for fever this summer.

Mrs. J. E. Jones Entertains. One of the nicest parties of the season was the one given by Mrs. J. E. Jones Friday afternoon. The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers and ferns.

Mrs. Will Mays served delicious "42" the hottest, ascertained by Mrs. Beard, Misses Jones and Roach, served delicious cream and cake to Mrs. Kice, Beck, Rodarnal, Hart, Mason, Duncan, Blue, Maddox, LeFevre, Manville, Britts, Drummond, Carney, Stead, Summers, Sledge, Higgins, Mays, Beard, Chauncey, Boken, Misses Mason, Jones, Epperson, Barton and Roach.

Keeping Tab on the Mail. During the month of May every postoffice in the United States will be required not only to accurately weigh all mail going out and received, but also to count every piece of each class of mail. This will be used as a basis for making contracts with the railroads for carrying the mail and also to ascertain just what it is costing to carry each class of mail. Postmaster General Hitchcock has advocated an advance of postage rates on magazines and this work will probably give him more ammunition for the campaign.

The Ada office will be allowed an additional clerk for this month.

Lankford Names Bank Examiners. L. D. Lankford, state bank commissioner, announced this appointment of bank examiners and their office on Saturday. The field men are G. L. Wilson of Erid; M. E. Garnett, of Nowata; W. C. Ernest of Thomas; W. L. Reed of Ada; George S. Meade of Chickasha; I. F. Crow of Tulsa; H. M. Foster, of Apache; J. G. Hill of Goco; Claude Tuttle of Holman and Henry M. Sorosis Notes.
The last session of the Sorosis year was held Saturday at the home of Mrs. McKeel.

The closing scenes of the play "As You Like It," was the study. Leader, Mrs. Winn.

No questions were given on the lesson, but the Club will meet in a call session soon when the whole play will be reviewed.

Mrs. McKeel had just returned from the Fourth District meeting at Durant, and gave an interesting report.

Arrangements were made for the May day picnic, for the Sorosis children, and notice will be given to the members at a later date.

Mrs. McKeel has kept "open house" for Sorosis this year and the members feel grateful to her for the many pleasant afternoons spent in her home.

STORM DOES MUCH DAM.

AGE IN KENTUCKY
Louisville, Ky., April 30.—For the past thirty-six hours a steady down-pour of rain has been falling over Kentucky and Southern Indiana and it is estimated tonight that the loss in this State alone will amount to nearly $200,000.

Many of the smaller towns in Kentucky are practically submerged, but the heavier part of the loss is on the farmer, as much damage has been wrought upon growing crops, furrowed land and houses.

No loss of life has yet been reported, but many of those who are living along river banks are moving to safer quarters tonight, as every stream in this State is on a rampage and threatens to sweep away the homes in the lowlands.

Houses Damaged by Floods.
Glasgow, Ky., suffered the heaviest loss of any town in this state, as many of the homes were badly damaged by rising waters and many cat-and-hogs were lost in the same manner. Trestles and bridges along Beaver Creek on a branch railroad line, were swept away and traffic will not be resumed on the line for several days.

The loss in Central Kentucky will be heavy, as many fields were damaged considerably by the waters pouring over them. Fields which had already been planted in corn and spring grain were so badly washed that in all probability the ground will have to be broken again before another crop can be planted.

May Decrease Tobacco Crop
Tobacco plants were washed away in many counties and it is feared that there will be a shortage of plants this year. It is too late to sow beds for this year's crop.

At Owensboro, Ky., much damage was done by rising waters and the town is menaced by an overflow of the Ohio river, which is rising rapidly tonight and is now near the flood stage. It is feared that the Ohio will overflow its banks within the next thirty-six hours.

Church Case Appealed.
Oklahoma City, May 1.—A test case involving the legality of the merger between the main body of the Presbyterian church and the Cumberland Presbyterian church, effected in 1906 after a split lasting since 1812, was brought to the supreme court Saturday from Wagoner county. After the merger, the trustees of the Cumberland church at Wagoner decided the church property to the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. Part of the members of the church objected to the transfer, however, and brought suit to recover possession of the property. They attacked the legality of the trustees' action and also the legality of the 1906 merger. The case was decided in favor of the incumbent element in the lower court. Copies of the constitution of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. and of the Confession of Faith of the Cumberland church are attached to the papers as exhibits in the case.

Marriage Licenses.
W. H. Bryant, Ada, 44; Mrs. Minnie Wilson, Ada, 33.
J. H. Burnett, Francis, 25; Minnie Hockett, Lula, 20.
S. J. Richmond, Ada, 22; Nora Colbert, Ada, 23.
C. W. Copeland, Sulphur, 35; Mrs. Minnie Glick, Sulphur, 35.

Opportunity for Boys.
We learn that Sturim's Oklahoma Magazine has arranged to give a year in any school in Oklahoma absolutely free for subscription work to that splendid Magazine to any boy or girl. The plan gives a county to such as may first apply and prove their worthiness to such a prize, there being no contest.

The Magazine is also looking for a live boy in each town in the country to handle the Magazine on the Saturday Evening Post plan. Sturim's is a live one and growing stronger with the people and in real literary merit every month. Oklahoma is justly proud of this publication, and not more of any of its qualities than its enterprise.

If you are interested in either of these propositions write TODAY, addressing your letter to Oklahoma City.

A Small Cyclone.

Yesterday morning when the north-wind first blew up, a whirlwind struck the residence of F. D. Hill in Capital Hill with such force that the porch was badly damaged, being wrenched from their places.
